

< Back to all Events

Using the Art of Eugene Martin to Promote Fluency in Conceptual Thinking, Reflective Writing and Creating

Wednesday, February 23, 2022

BOOK ONLINE

Type:

Arts In Education, Professional Development, Workshop

Time:

February 23, 2022 - 4:30 pm - 7:30 pm

Venue:

Acadiana Center for the Arts

Duration:

3 hours

 Share

Presented by Shelly Breaux, Arts Educator

Most appropriate for grades 6–12

The past two years have presented us with times of the unknown, self-reflection and focusing on the social emotional learning of our students. Using the work of African American artist Eugene Martin, participants will go through a process of developing empathic awareness by using narrative techniques, such as dialogue, description and reflection. After analyzing the work of Eugene Martin, participants will be able to evolve their own interpretations into writing and creating.

Questions? Email Bree@AcadianaCenterfortheArts.org

This workshop is hosted by the Lafayette Kennedy Center Partners in Education team (Acadiana Center for the Arts, Lafayette Parish School System and University of Louisiana at Lafayette)

+ Google Calendar + Ical Export